FIREMEN.

A cold wave reached here Dec. 24. At E. T. Hartford's glass ran down to zero, at L. D. Wood's furnace the hill it was 6 below, at Kears Falls, in some places, 10 below. It made the people shiver, they were not expecting such a sudden change.

Mrs. Lemuel Cotton has fallen rapidly since our last writing. It is thought she cannot live but a few days.

Mrs. Daniel Durgin, who has been very sick with a rheumatic tremble, is improving.

There is one happy lawyer at Kears Falls, and one that looks a good deal like Mrs. Ernest Hatch has been stopping with her mother in Freedom, N. H., for the last week, who is in very poor health.

Orrin Norton, who has been at work at Gorham for the last year, is at home for a short time, and says he will be engaged work for another year. We received a pleasant call from him one day last week.

William F. French of Conway, N. H., visited his cousin, Seth I. Day, a few days ago.

There is a rumor about the farm which belonged to the late Hiram Trippe is to be sold to Moses Merrillfield of Conway, N. H.

Mrs. Jesse Sargent is quite sick.

Mrs. Betsey Robbins still continues quite poorly.

Andrew Varney recently sold a pair of lat spring calks to Jordan Stacy for $80.00.

John Rounds sold a pair of two year olds for $80.00. S. L. H.

EAST WATERFORD.

Frank Vashburn has hired out for a year with S. S. Hall.

Joe Haskell has got done work at the city in their cider mill.

Bernie Allen has made 9323 gallons of cider in J. Haskell's mill this fall and is now at work for S. S. Hall.

E. P. Haskell has got him a new horse.

Johannie Haskell has got home from Norway.

When you go to Norway call at Miss Libby's and see her 24.0 cabinets.

HANOVER.

Owen Dyke took his rifle last Thursday morning and started for what is called the Scrimmer country. He found deer tracks and followed them until he found where the deer had laid that night. Says Dyke, "I am on the right track," and going a little farther he found where five had laid. He followed the tracks about half a mile and then he saw a single deer where some trees had been blown down, where he saw a doe standing looking him in the face. Mr. D. took his rifle to the shoulder and aimed for her forward shoulder and fired, the deer dropping to the ground. He put another ball through the neck and killed her. Mr. Dyke strapped her to his back and started for home about 4 miles away. He hadn't gone far before he heard something breaking the crust so he waited a minute and a fine buck was about 4 rods from him in an old road. He again brought his rifle to his shoulder and fired, the buck taking the poor cartridge didn't go. The buck stood still and he supplied the cartridge again. Three times he tried it, then he took it out and before he could get another cartridge in his gun he was far away, so Mr. Dyke started for home and reached there at 3 o'clock. The deer weighed 75 lbs. after it was dressed, fat and big and a fine doe. No deer has been shot in Hanover for years.

The Good Templars are to play the drama, "Breath on the Waters," in about three weeks.

Mr. Hammond of Milan, was in town last week.

All of the mills were shut down last week on account of the ice making in the brook but are running now.

Forest Howe killed two fine pigs last week.

School commenced here last Monday under the instruction of Emma Allen of Dixfield.

A title boy in this town by the name of Richard Russell was told by his uncle if he would catch 100 rats he would give him $5.00. The little fellow has caught 32 house rats and is in hopes to get the rest. They never were so thick in the town as they are now.

The boys tried to serenade Edward Good and wife but he wouldn't ask them in so they gave up as a bad job.

Lumber is being hauled into the mills. Quite a lot will be worked up in Hanover the coming year.

Fred Silver is boarding Russell's crew of men, who are saving good money.

A. Roberts has sold one of his snow plows to go to Gorham, N. H. They are the best thing ever invented in this part of the country.
